

CYCLONE DOES GREAT DAMAGE

Famous Flyer Says Weather Near Perfect

LONDON, June 24—"If conditions were always like this, ocean flying would be easy."

This was the cheerful message which was sent by Major Charles Kingsford-Smith, latest bidder for trans-Atlantic flight honors, and picked up by the British General Electric Company at 1:15 p. m. today (8:15 a. m. Eastern Daylight Saving Time).

The company heard Major Kingsford-Smith, flying with three companions in the monoplane Southern Cross, until 1:40 p. m. (8:40 a. m. E. D. T.) during which time the intrepid aviator gave enthusiastic reports of his ocean progress.

The General Electric company again heard Kingsford-Smith at 3:03 p. m. (10:03 a. m. Eastern Daylight Saving Time), at which hour the flyer reported atmospheric conditions were very bad.

"The wind is from the south, and the fog is going up," the message said. "We are pining for a smok."

No position was given in the message.

At 1:15 p. m., Major Kingsford-Smith reported, conditions were superb except for a slightly clouded sky.

SKY OVERCAST

"It is slightly overcast," the flyer's message read, "The ocean is like a mill-pond, and we are making 100 miles an hour. If conditions were always like this, ocean flying would be easy."

The message added that the flyer, encoined in the roomy cockpit of the giant monoplane some 600 miles off the coast of Ireland, were receiving all the wireless dispatches which were sent them from radio stations on both sides of the Atlantic and from ocean liners.

The radio also stated that all aboard the plane were well.

Major Kingsford-Smith's cheery message, indicating probable success on his daring attempt to span the Atlantic from east to west, alleviated all fears that had been felt, for the flyer's safety during the early hours of the morning, when considerable time passed with no word from the weather-scarred veteran plane which has already crossed the Pacific ocean and which is one of the oldest machines still in active service.

EARLY WEDNESDAY
The aviator left Port Marnock, Ireland, at 11:25 p. m. last night, Eastern Daylight Time. If the present rate of progress is maintained, the Southern Cross should be over the North Atlantic coast some time tomorrow morning.

VALLEY STREAM, N. Y., June 24.—A Curtiss-Robin cabin monoplane left the airport here today for Portland, Me., where it will be loaded with 125 gallons of fuel. Then it will attempt to meet the Southern Cross, which is winging across the Atlantic, and refuel the ship if Major Kingsford-Smith agrees.

The plane is due at Portland at noon.

H. B. Fisher, former army pilot and Aarne Melstveit are in the plane.

PILOTS ALOFT OVER 306 HRS.

"City of Chicago" Drones Lazily As Brothers Continue Endurance Flight.

CHICAGO, June 24—John and Kenneth Hunter, pilots of the "City of Chicago," today were dropping away the thirteenth day in their attempt to set a new endurance record.

At 10 A. M. (C. S. T.), the brothers had been aloft 306 hours and 20 minutes.

HEETER FINED

Harold Heeter, who was arrested in the city building by Deputy Fissell, was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty before Judge E. A. Brown on a charge of intoxication. He was committed to the county jail.

Facts About Trip of Southern Cross

Perinent Facts about the Southern Cross and the route of the flight being attempted in the airplane by Captain Charles Kingsford Smith and three companions.

Cruising speed 95 miles per hour.

High speed 110 miles per hour.

Distance from Port Marnock, Iceland to Cape Race, Newfoundland is 1,900 miles.

Distance from Cape Race to New York is 1,200 miles.

Carrying approximately 1,800 gallons of gas, the plane can cruise aloft for approximately 33 hours.

Planning to make the flight in 34 hours, Kingsford-Smith should land in New York about 9 a. m. Wednesday.

The Southern Cross began her memorable flight from California across the Pacific ocean to Australia on the last of May, 1928. The distance was 7,400 miles.

The Southern Cross is the second oldest tri-motored plane in existence and it is a "patchwork" plane built from two other planes which were in crack-ups.

Admiral Richard E. Byrd's tri-motored Josephine Ford in which he flew over the North Pole is the Southern Cross' only predecessor extant.

TOM THUMB GOLF HERE

Dave Courtwright With Chilli-cothe Man Putting In Miniature Course.

Circleville has fallen in line with the larger cities and by July 4th will have a public miniature golf course. This Tom Thumb layout for "putting" will be located in Seyfert's park, just south of the Sinclair Oil Station and the Green Goose barbeque.

Dave Courtwright of this city, and C. A. Smith of Chillicothe will be the proprietors. Courtwright will have charge of the course, which will be built with the usual banks and hazards to make the putting interesting.

PLAN PROGRAM FOR HOSPITAL

Rife To Give Institution To City, Hedges To Accept, In Short Service.

The grand opening of the Berger hospital will take place at 2 p. m. Sunday according to an announcement following a meeting Monday evening between the hospital commission and the county medical association.

S. T. Rife, a member of the commission, will make the address delivering the hospital to the city and Mayor E. T. Hedges will, in turn, accept it for the city.

The hospital will then be open for inspection by the large throng which is expected to attend the service.

Announcement was made Tuesday by Wallace Crist, safety director, that the hospital will be closed from now until Sunday while final touches are being put on the institution for the grand opening.

SISTER IS GIVEN SEIBERT ESTATE

A sister, Alice E. Adams, is left the bulk of the estate of the late Charles M. Seibert, Jr., a former resident of this city, according to terms of the will filed in Franklin county probate court Monday. An estimate of $13,000 in real and $10,000 in personal property was given.

STOCK MARKET SPURTS AFTER MONDAY JUMP

U. S. Steel, General Electric and Other Favorites Ahead —Wheat Down.

BY W. S. COUSINS

NEW YORK, June 24.—After an hour of irregularity, in which prices of the speculative leaders swung uncertainly in a narrow price range, the market resumed the rally which was in progress at Monday's close.

United States Steel, General Electric and other industrial favorites, under the stimulus of short covering and investment buying, forged ahead to the best levels on the move, recovering all the ground they had lost since last Friday.

As a further evidence of the easier tendency in the money market, acceptance dealers cut the rates on bankers' acceptances to 2 per cent bid, the lowest for the year. It was the general impression in Wall Street that the bears had a good distance to go in order to cover up on any considerable volume of their short commitments, and once again stocks were not so plentiful at the low prices of the day.

Vanadium was a leader in the rally, and sold above 80 for a new gain of 2 points. U. S. Steel at 157 1/2 was up 5 points; United Corp up 1 1/4 at 32 1/2; United Aircraft up 2 and Radio up a point.

The market was dull rather than weak in this recovery, with transactions only 307,000 shares. Forced liquidation appeared to have been completed for the time being. Railroad stocks were in better demand, with Union Pacific up about 6 points. Wheat sold fractionally lower, and Cotton was down a point in the early trading. Call money was unchanged at 2 1/2 per cent.

WHEAT PRICES TO BE LOWERED

Price Quoted Now Show From 37 To 47 Cents Lower Than Last Year.

Farmers will probably receive less than one dollar a bushel for wheat this year as a starting price, according to reports from grain dealers. They are paying from 83c to one dollar a bushel and unless a great recovery is made in the present wheat situation and markets, the price will not exceed one dollar.

The price quoted this week was from 37 to 47 cents lower than the corresponding price of a year ago. Wheat cutting in the county started last week and probably by the latter part of this week, the larger percent of the crop will be cut and ready for harvest.

FRAZEYBURG FIRE SWIFT

Village Near Zanesville Has Loss Estimated at $40,000 Tuesday.

FRAZEYBURG, O., June 24.—A fire, causing a total loss of $40,000, swept through three buildings here early this morning completely destroying them.

The blaze, which started in the yard of the Sam Hoffman Lumber Company, razed two adjoining structures, the Morgan Feed Store and the Buckeye Pipe Line Company office building.

The Zanesville and Newark fire companies were called and aided in getting the blaze under control.

The origin of the fire is undetermined.

SHERIFF SALE

Arthur Morris purchased the 58 acres of land at $59 per acre in the sheriff's sale of real estate at the court house Monday.

The land is located in Salter Creek township.

BYRD CONGRATULATES LINDBERGH

TAR FROM FRESHLY TREATED HIGHWAY LEADS TO ARREST OF MEN FOR HOG STEALING

Wesley Kerns of Near Kingston, To Be Questioned For His Part of Act.

Four hogs stolen from the farm of Harry Heath, one mile west of New Holland early Saturday morning, were recovered on the farm of Wesley Kerns, 48, one and one-half miles south of Kingston by Fayetteville officials.

Ralph Williams and Isaac Beedy of Washington C. H., suspected by the officers, are being held in Fayetteville jail awaiting a formal charge of hog-stealing.

The two men were arrested by Sheriff Minton and Deputy Vincent of Fayetteville about 4:30 Saturday morning, near the scene of the theft, as they were enroute home from their night's activities. Later in the day they were identified by Kerns as the men who had left the stolen hogs on his farm.

After recovering the hogs, and obtaining a statement from Kerns, who at first insisted that he had obtained the hogs from a man near Kingston, that Williams and Beedy had brought the hogs to his farm, Kerns was released.

FIND AUTO GONE

Going to the home of the two men in the southeastern part of the county, the sheriff ascertained that their automobile was gone, and with this knowledge he started forth, accompanied by Deputy Vincent, feeling certain that he knew who had obtained the hogs.

It was while on the lookout for the pair that they were picked up in an old Dodge automobile, brought to this city and locked up. Examining their car, Sheriff Minton discovered that it had picked up a large amount of freshly tarred pea gravel, and inquiry developed that state route 104 this side of the Scioto river, had been freshly tarred and pea gravel applied.

Sheriff Minton immediately suspected that delivery of the hogs had been made to Kerns, who also had been under suspicion of knowing something of the disposition of stolen hogs, etc., and whose premises had been watched upon several occasions during the past year by Sheriff Minton and his deputy.

PICK OUT HOGS

Driving to the Kerns farm which is on the Kingston-Chillicothe road just south of the point where the road passes under the N. & W. railroad, the officers found some two score of hogs on the farm and readily picked out four as answering the description of the hogs stolen from Heath.

Kerns announced that he had purchased the hogs from a man some nine miles distant, and that officers took him along and investigated the claim, learning that the hogs purchased of the man failed to tally with the four found on the Kerns farm.

Heath was then called and immediately picked out his four hogs. Still Kerns held to his original story. The hogs were then loaded in a truck and returned to Heath's premises. Kerns being taken along to see if the hogs appeared at home with the remainder of the herd, which they did, and gave every indication of knowing their surroundings.

Sheriff Minton then gave Kerns an opportunity to tell the right story, and after learning that he was about to be turned over to Sheriff Fox of Ross county to explain his possession of the stolen property, Kerns admitted that the hogs were brought to his place at an early hour Saturday morning, by two men, whose names he said he did not know.

IDENTIFIED MEN
He was then brought to this city and readily identified both Beedy and Williams as the two men who had brought the hogs.

As he could not be prosecuted in this county, he was released, and the authorities of Ross county expect to investigate his case. His statement that Williams and Beedy brought the stolen hogs to him was made in the presence of several witnesses.

Sheriff Fox said that Kerns, who owns a farm of 104 acres on which he lives, had been arrested twice in Ross county, the last time being caught with 40 gallons of liquor. The other time he was arrested was on a liquor charge, it was stated.

LOOT BANK, SHOOT MAN

Three Desperadoes Invade Grand Rapids, Obtain $10,000 Then Escape.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 24.—Three desperadoes today invaded a branch bank of the Grand Rapids Savings Bank Company, and, after shooting and seriously wounding one man, made good an escape with $10,000.

Harm Broene, a hardware dealer, who was working in the bank lobby, was shot down by the bandits, apparently without cause.

After looting the cashier's cage, the criminals escaped in a waiting automobile.

TO WORKHOUSE

Ernest Gill, 30-year-old, who was sentenced to serve 30 days in the Cincinnati workhouse and pay a fine of $100 and costs on a charge of robbing the Lindsey filling station north of town will be taken to the workhouse Wednesday by sheriff's authorities.

Morris Boggs of the Boggs Hotel, accompanied the Malone Flying Circus aviators to Indianapolis Monday and expects to return to Columbus via T. A. T. from the Indianapolis airport.

MERCURY AT 98 MARK AT NOON TODAY

Weather Observer Says Temperature Would Have Hit 100 Without Rain.

With a great clap of thunder at exactly 1:16 p. m. today a torrent of rainfall swept the streets of Circleville and covered a portion of Pickaway county to lend slight relief to the sweltering hot weather that has unfolded this vicinity for the past several days.

Rain fell in sheets and after only a few minutes water filled gutters and formed small rivulets rushing up and down the thoroughfares.

TEMPERATURE 98

Previous to this relief, the city was sweltering under the spell of the hottest day of the year, the temperature reaching its highest level of the year, slightly more than 98 degrees at noon. Dr. H. C. Clarke, weather observer, reported the temperature at this mark and with low for the day at 82 at 7 a. m. This temperature so early in the day is considered more than remarkable.

Thermometers reached 96 degrees here on Monday at 3 p. m. and was the hottest reported for that day. The low for Monday was 74.

Circleville's rainfall was probably much less than vicinities south of the city. Heavy clouds floated low over the southern part of the county.

By International News Service

Thousands of Ohioans were longed for the shade of the old apple tree today as they sought relief from the scorching temperatures which are holding the Buckeye state in their grip.

No immediate relief was predicted, although the United States Weather Bureau at Columbus promised slightly cooler weather for tonight and tomorrow. Little rain was promised for farmers throughout the state, however, as corn and wheat crops were rapidly wilting.

Central Ohio thermometers registered 87 and 88 to 90 degrees shortly before noon and the mercury was expected to climb this afternoon near the record for June 24 which is 97 degrees at Columbus. Northern sections of the state reported temperatures of 86 and, in some places, the mercury was slightly higher.

SET NEW RECORD

A new record was established in the southeastern part of Ohio early today with recordings of 100 degrees being registered. This mark was expected to be exceeded later in the day. Temperatures along Ohio river towns joined the record-breaking marks of 102 degrees which held St. Louis, Montgomery, Ala., and Phoenix, Ariz., in a sweltering grasp yesterday.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the summer, the temperature reaching a maximum of 96 in central and northern Ohio, and in some Ohio river cities, it climbed to 97. This last mark was registered at Cincinnati and was the highest recording since 1908.

The season's record of 96 at Portsmouth caused three prostrations at that city. Other season records were set yesterday at Dayton and Springfield, both of which had 96. Zanesville reported 94, Lima, 92, Sandusky 91, Cleveland 89 and Toledo 88.

THREE DROWNINGS

Three drownings occurred in Ohio yesterday as thousands of persons sought relief from the heat by swimming. Lawrence O'Neil, 10, drowned in a pool at Dayton, Maynard Keck, 9, of Warren, perished in a creek and Robert Kennedy, 19, lost his life near Zanesville.

Small streams throughout the state are rapidly drying up and the water supplies of many cities are nearing exhaustion. Suburbs of Cleveland have been facing a water famine for two weeks. Official of other towns have already taken steps to prevent conditions of a similar nature.

Low water pressure at many places has increased fear for fire.

CONTINUE CASE

Guy Forrest, 16, Lancaster pike who was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell on a charge of driving without lights was continued by Juvenile Judge E. A. Brown Monday until Saturday evening, June 28.

Kingston Pike Farms Suffer Largest Loss

The twister that missed the center of town Tuesday afternoon, hit in the north end where practically every tree in the vicinity of Northridge road was uprooted or partially destroyed. The trolley wires were stripped down and telephone poles were broken off in the middle. There was no one reported injured although limbs of trees and broken glass, were blown about for 15 minutes, and wires charged with heavy voltage, hung suspended in the center of the street.

The Scioto Valley bus going north was caught in the cyclone, and a tree blown down, which missed the top of the bus but crashed onto the engine. The passengers were removed to the home of R. G. Peters at Northridge road.

A chair on the back porch of the residence of County Auditor Bryce Briggs was blown from the porch around the house and across the street into the front yard of the residence of Miss Mattie Gearhart.

All traffic was closed on N. Court street by the trees which were either lying on the street or were caught on the sagging wires. The trees in the street completely shut off the views in either direction. Court street was made impassable from Park place to above the cemetery where more trees, wires and poles were across the street.

One tree at the residence of Hulse Hays was cracked at the bottom, but held until the wind stopped. All of the trees blown down or uprooted were the largest and oldest on the street.

Trucks and teams were immediately put to work to clear the streets.

TOOLS NEEDED
Tools on the driveway were used to remove the trees which were blown down. The trees were blown down in such a way that they were a great nuisance to the street.

The son of James McGowan, a tenant on the Kingston pike, and sons of Dr. Hays, who were in the Ludwig farm barn when the cyclone struck. The storm, which carried the roof from the barn and left the hogs playing in the yard, was a great nuisance to the street.

Employees of the county were ready at work clearing the debris which had been blown down by the mighty wind.

CONVICTS AND GUARDS KILLED

Hundreds of Prisoners in Burma Mutiny—Troops Halt Delivery.

LONDON, June 24.—Six guards and four convicts were killed today at the Central penitentiary, Rangoon, Burma, when several hundred prisoners mutinied in protest against the terms of the Simon report on India, according to an Exchange telegraph dispatch from Rangoon.

Only the timely arrival of military police prevented a general jail delivery, the dispatch said. The reinforced police force was able to put down the mutiny and restore order in the jail, only after a large number of the rioters had been injured.

This was the first fatal incident growing out of the publication of the terms of the Simon report, so far as dispatches coming into London indicated.

SHERMAN TO TALK AT SCIOTO GRANGE

Civil Engineering Dean To Use Proposed Erie to River Canal as Subject.

Professor C. E. Sherman, dean of civil engineering at Ohio State University will address the Scioto Valley Grange in the Grange hall, north of Ashville this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Professor Sherman will use as his subject, "Should the Proposed Waterway from Sandusky to Portsmouth be carried out as Planned?" This talk promises to be interesting and all grange members from Pickaway and Franklin counties are invited to attend.

CORRECTION

Funeral services for Benny Ritt, 22, were conducted at the Rott home in W. Union street by Dr. G. J. Troutman instead of Rev. E. S. Toensmeier as was announced.

Unestimable damage was done on the Kingston pike, two miles south of the city, shortly after 1:15 p. m. today when a "baby cyclone" covering a width of approximately a quarter of a mile swept through the vicinity, blowing over barns, lifting roofs off the barns, upending trees, blowing over telephone poles and scattering newly-mown wheat fields. The greatest amount of damage was done on the Orin W. Dresbach farm on the Kingston pike. Damage will reach several thousand dollars.

Both farms resemble a battle field with parts of barns and parts of machinery scattered all over the fields. Practically all the trees on both farms have been uprooted. The roof of the corn-crisp on the Dresbach farm was blown from its place and the wheat and corn in the fields were scattered over a distance of approximately 200 yards. No less than 15 Ohio Bell telephone poles have been torn from their bases.

Tools on the driveway were used to remove the trees which were blown down. The trees were blown down in such a way that they were a great nuisance to the street.

The son of James McGowan, a tenant on the Kingston pike, and sons of Dr. Hays, who were in the Ludwig farm barn when the cyclone struck. The storm, which carried the roof from the barn and left the hogs playing in the yard, was a great nuisance to the street.

FIND DERELICT YACHT IN BAY

Believe Six Members of Crew Killed By Run Runners—Liquor Is Found.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Six members of the crew of a mystery yacht are believed to have met death at the hands of Delaware Bay fishermen following discovery of the battered hull of the yacht drifting into the tides in Delaware Bay today.

A huge hole torn through the side of the deserted yacht indicates that it might have been run down by the pirate craft, and looted. Without a clue as to the whereabouts of the crew, authorities today were of the belief that they had been brutally murdered and their bodies cast into the bay.

Cost guardsmen from Base number 9, Cape May, who discovered the battered hull, removed liquor valued at about $10,000. The remainder of the cargo had been stolen from the starboard side of the boat, as was evidenced by the disarray within the hold. Clothing and other personal effects were scattered about the floor indicated that the boat had been opened by a crew of six. But no positive clue as to the fate of the men could be found.

The boat, a 45-foot speedster, named the Daisy T., was partially submerged when sighted by the cost guardsmen on the Delaware side of Delaware Bay a few miles below the mouth of the Mispillion river, in Delaware, noted as a haven for run runners.

TEETS FINED $50

William Teets, this city, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of driving a car with no tags and costs for driving with no license following his arraignment before Squire E. C. Friesen Monday morning. He was arrested by Sheriff Miller Fissell and was committed to the county jail until fine and costs are paid.

C. Clarke, weather observer, reported the temperature at this mark and with low for the day at 82 at 7 a. m. This temperature so early in the day is considered more than remarkable.

Thermometers reached 96 degrees here on Monday at 3 p. m. and was the hottest reported for that day. The low for Monday was 74.

Circleville's rainfall was probably much less than vicinities south of the city. Heavy clouds floated low over the southern part of the county.

By International News Service

Thousands of Ohioans were long for the shade of the old apple tree today as they sought relief from the scorching temperatures which are holding the Buckeye state in their grip.

No immediate relief was predicted, although the United States Weather Bureau at Columbus promised slightly cooler weather for tonight and tomorrow. Little rain was promised for farmers throughout the state, however, as corn and wheat crops, were rapidly wilting.

Central Ohio thermometers registered 87 and 88 to 90 degrees shortly before noon and the mercury was expected to climb this afternoon near the record for June 24 which is 97 degrees at Columbus. Northern sections of the state reported temperatures of 86 and, in some places, the mercury was slightly higher.

SET NEW RECORD

A new record was established in the southeastern part of Ohio early today with recordings of 100 degrees being registered. This mark was expected to be exceeded later in the day. Temperatures along Ohio river towns joined the record-breaking marks of 102 degrees which held St. Louis, Montgomery, Ala., and Phoenix, Ariz., in a sweltering grasp yesterday.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the summer, the temperature reaching a maximum of 96 in central and northern Ohio, and in some Ohio river cities, it climbed to 97. This last mark was registered at Cincinnati and was the highest recording since 1908.

The season's record of 96 at Portsmouth caused three prostrations at that city. Other season records were set yesterday at Dayton and Springfield, both of which had 96. Zanesville reported 94, Lima, 92, Sandusky 91, Cleveland 89 and Toledo 88.

THREE DROWNINGS

Three drownings occurred in Ohio yesterday as thousands of persons sought relief from the heat by swimming. Lawrence O'Neill, 10, drowned in a pool at Dayton, Maynard Keck, 9, of Warren, perished in a creek and Robert Kennedy, 19, lost his life near Zanesville.

Small streams throughout the state are rapidly drying up and the water supplies of many cities are nearing exhaustion. Suburbs of Cleveland have been facing a water famine for two weeks. Official of other towns have already taken steps to prevent conditions of a similar nature.

Low water pressure at many places has increased fear for fire.

CONTINUE CASE

Guy Forrest, 16, Lancaster pike who was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell on a charge of driving without lights was continued by Juvenile Judge E. A. Brown Monday until Saturday evening, June 28.

Kingston Pike Farms Suffer Largest Loss

The twister that missed the center of town Tuesday afternoon, hit in the north end where practically every tree in the vicinity of Northridge-rd was uprooted or partially destroyed. The trolley wires were stripped down and telephone poles were broken off in the middle. There was no one reported injured although limbs of trees and broken glass, were blown about for 15 minutes, and wires charged with heavy voltage, hung suspended in the center of the street.

The Scioto Valley bus going north was caught in the cyclone, and a tree blown down, which missed the top of the bus but crashed onto the engine. The passengers were removed to the home of R. G. Peters at Northridge-rd.

A chair on the back porch of the residence of County Auditor Bryce Briggs was blown from the porch around the house and across the street into the front yard of the residence of Miss Mattie Gearhart.

All traffic was closed on N. Court street by the trees which were either lying on the street or were caught on the sagging wires.

The trees in the street, completely shut off the views in either direction. Court street was impassable from Park place to above the cemetery where more trees, wires and poles were across the street.

One tree at the residence of Hulse Hays was cracked at the bottom, but held until the wind stopped. All of the trees blown down or uprooted were the largest and oldest on the street.

Trucks and teams were immediately put to work to clear the streets.

CONVICTS AND GUARDS KILLED

Hundreds of Prisoners In Burma Mutiny—Troops Halt Delivery.

LONDON, June 24.—Six guards and four convicts were killed today at the Central penitentiary, Rangoon, Burma, when several hundred prisoners mutinied in protest against the terms of the Simon report on India, according to an exchange telegraph dispatch from Rangoon.

Only the timely arrival of military police prevented a general jail delivery, the dispatch said. The reinforced police force was able to put down the mutiny and restore order in the jail, only after a large number of the rioters had been injured.

This was the first fatal incident growing out of the publication of the terms of the Simon report, so far as dispatches coming into London indicated.

SHERMAN TO TALK AT SCIOTO GRANGE

Civil Engineering Dean To Use Proposed Erie to River Canal as Subject.

Professor C. E. Sherman, dean of civil engineering at Ohio State University will address the Scioto Valley Grange in the Grange hall, north of Ashville this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Professor Sherman will use as his subject, "Should the Proposed Waterway from Sandusky to Portsmouth be carried out as Planned?"

This talk promises to be interesting and all grange members from Pickaway and Franklin-cos are invited to attend.

CORRECTION

Funeral services for Benny Ritt, 22, were conducted at the Ritt home in W. Union street by Dr. G. J. Troutman instead of Rev. E. S. Toensmeier as was announced.

Unestimable damage was done on the Kingston-pk, two miles south of the city, shortly after 1:15 p. m. today when a 'baby cyclone' covering a width of approximately a quarter of a mile swept through the vicinity blowing over barns, lifting roofs off the barns, upending trees, blowing over telephone poles and scattering newly-mown wheat fields. The greatest amount of damage was done on the Orin W. Dresbach and the Ludwig farm on the Kingston-pk. Damage will reach several thousand dollars.

Both farm resemble a battle field with parts of barns and parts of machinery scattered all over the fields. Practically all the trees on both farms have been upturned. The roof of the corn-crib on the Dresbach farm was blown from its place across the yard and into a wheat field across the road, a distance of approximately 300 yards. No less than 15 Ohio Bell telephone poles have been torn from their location.

TOOLS DAMAGED

Tools on the Dresbach farm were badly damaged with barns and sheds caving-in on the implements. Dresbach was plowing beans at the time the cyclone appeared and his face and back looked like he had been attacked by a swarm of bees. He is covered with bumps where hail struck him.

The son of James Mowery, a tenant on the Ludwig farm, and the sons of Dresbach were playing in the Ludwig farm barn when the cyclone struck. The strong wind carried the roof from the barn and left the boys playing there unharmed.

Employees of the county were already at work clearing the road of debris which had been blown there by the mighty wind.

FIND DERELICT YACHT IN BAY

Believe Six Members of Boat Killed By Run Runners—Liquor Is Found.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Six members of the crew of a mystery yacht are believed to have met death at the hands of Delaware Bay freebooters following discovery of the battered hull of the yacht drifting idly with the tides in Delaware Bay today.

A huge hole torn through the side of the deserted yacht indicates that it might have been run down by the pirate craft and looted. Without a clue as to the whereabouts of the crew, authorities today were of the belief that they had been brutally murdered and their bodies cast into the bay.

Cost guardsmen from Base number 9, Cape May, who discovered the battered hull, removed liquor valued at about $10,000. The remainder of the cargo had been stolen from the starboard side of the boat, as was evidenced by the disarray within the hold. Clothing and other personal effects found scattered about the floor indicated that the boat had been operated by a crew of six. But no positive clue as to the fate of the men could be found.

The boat, a 45-foot speedster, named the Daisy T, was partially submerged when sighted by the coast guardsmen on the Delaware side of Delaware Bay a few miles below the mouth of the Mispillion river, in Delaware, noted as a haven for run runners.

TEETS FINED $50

William Teets, this city, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of driving a car with no tags and $25 and costs for driving with no lights following his arraignment before Squire E. C. Fries Monday evening. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell and was committed to the county jail until the fine and costs are paid.

WARDS AND COCA COLAS TIE AFTER 11 EXCITING INNINGS

Game Is Thrilling With Deputy's Crew Coming From Behind To Tie Score With Five Runs on Triple and Home Run — Pitchers Do Well.

After playing 11 of the hardest played innings witnessed by recreation ball fans, the Coca Colas and Doggy Ward's team battled to a tie Monday evening at Mason's park. The score was 5 to 5.

In another game Doggy Ward's had defeated the Cokes in a rally when they scored several runs and defeated the bottlers 6 to 3, and that game was the downfall of the Cokes, as after this defeat they lost four consecutive games.

Monday's game was one of the cleanest and fastest played games that any person would want to see, no arguing but just clean and fair played baseball with excellent decisions from the ump.

The old ball started off with a boom, and the bottlers collected a run in the first stanza. Cuz Dumm hit and he was followed by Stykers, who had obtained admission to base. Dumm worked a double, a double steal, Barnes stepped to the plate and sent a hit into the outfield and brought Dumm across the plate.

In the third, the Cokes again opened up and started sending the ball into space. Dumm, Stykers, and Weller had obtained admission on the sacks either through clean hits or errors and Turk Baucher came to bat. He socked a three base hit and brought the first three across the plate. He was followed by Heeter who hit a two bagger and brought Baucher across making the score 5 to 0.

In the next two innings, the game was see-saw as neither team was able to score, runs although they did obtain several clean hits. The climax of the whole game came in the sixth when Doggy's boys scored their runs. These boys pounded the ball all over the lot, so that the Cokes were unable to handle it. Thompson had reached first and had stolen second. Red Owens stepped to the plate and landed a beautiful three-bagger and brought Thompson across the plate. Imler, Watts and Butler stepped to the bat and knocked an "almost" home run. He brought Owens, Imler and Watts across the

ATHLETICS CONTINUE TO WIN DRUBBING WHITE SOX TWICE

NEW YORK, June 24.—Ability to meet a crisis without hesitation makes such as Napoleon, Babe Ruth and village firemen and may be its this same ability that keeps the Philadelphia Athletics out in front in the American League.

Challenged repeatedly by other contenders the A's haven't faltered for quite a stretch and today the clubs nipping at their heels a few nippings ago are back there where the dust is thick enough for a blackboard when you figure out you grocery bill. They sank the Chicago White Sox twice yesterday, 2 to 1 and 17 to 9.

Grove struck out 11 and gave only five hits in the opener and two homers by Smead Jolley for the Alabasters were discounted by two from Al Simmons' bat and one each by Fox, Haas and Cochrane in the second game.

The stuttering Yanks failed again and the best they could do was break even with the St. Louis Browns, dividing a twin bill. Henry Johnson served swell ball in the initialer and Babe Ruth got his 24th homer as the Yankmen won 15 to 0. Lou Gehrig registered his 19th homer of the season in the nightcapper, which the Brownies won, 10 to 6.

The dazzling Dodgers broke the record for consecutive hits when they hung up 12 safeties and dashed to earth the fallen Pirates, 19 to 6. Babe Herman, the Glendale, California who made good in the city, got two circuiters.

Southpaw Willie Walker gave the Giants their first shutout win of the season, 3 to 0, holding the baffled Reds to 7 clouts.

The elevator-like Senators moved back into second place in the American plant, defeating Cleveland 9 to 5 and 3 to 2. Crowder pitching winning ball in the starter and Marberry did the deed in the evening pastime.

Outlit 18 to 14 the Braves outsmarted the Cardinals by hunching their bingle-bangles and won 12 to 9 and a game marked by the use of eight pitchers.

Hack Wilson pushed out his twenty second homer and an assorted selection of four other hits aiding the Cubs to lower the Phils, 21 to 8.

Scarrity's single scored Todt and MacFayden enabling the Boston Red Sox to humble Detroit, 3 to 0, with MacFayden allowing the tigers only three hits.

NEW HOLLAND TAKES LEAD

Blanking Good Hope Sunday while Lynchburg was being defeated 6-5 at Hillsboro, gave the New Holland Giants undisputed lead in the Tri-county league.

New Holland secured but two hits from the Good Hope hurler, Eddie Sollars but bunched these with an error in the third to score both runs. Right Fielder Beatty drove in both tallies with a double.

Good Hope scored six hits from Dad Briggs but when a hit meant a run this Briggs boy was "just too bad."

FINAL GAMES OF HALF ON TONIGHT

The last two recreation ball games of the first half will be played tonight. They are several postponed games, however.

Both games promise to be interesting and exciting.

CARNERA WINS BOUT ON FOUL

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Another fight, another foul; another crowd, another howl. Philadelphia awoke this morning with a dark brown conviction in its soul that last night had been one of those evenings that leave one vaguely aware that he had been born a sap and afterward went into a slump.

To marshal the facts of the case briefly, succinctly and as painlessly as possible, Primo Carnera, the "Beeg Bologna," got the decision on a foul in the fifth round. George Godfrey got the official onus of having "deliberately struck a low punch," and Philadelphia got a $200,000 hangover—the usual morning-after reaction of those who indulge in low-grade entertainment.

Six months ago, Phil Scott took a "plee" with Von Porat and was sustained, three months later he filed another demurrer with Jack Sharkey and the petition was denied, two weeks ago, the heavyweight championship was bequeathed to Schmeling as he lay groveling upon the floor under the impact of Sharkey's foul, last night—

It was a belmy summer's evening and a goodly crowd was there. They came, some 25,000 of them, to see the "great prime sight, the so-called battle of the behemoths. They left, muttering darkly in a strange tongue, foreign even to the old fifth ward down along the river front. They had seen the man who had been winning—at least in the writer's opinion—foul the man who had been losing, thus reenacting the Schmeling-Sharkey situation and bringing a second battle of bewilderment before the public.

9 RUNS WIN FOR GORDONS

Hits and Plenty of Them Scattered Through Field—C. C. of A. Scores One.

A great rally in the fourth inning after their opponents had scored one run won a big victory for the Gordon Tires Monday evening at Utilities park when they defeated the C. C. of A. by the score of 9 to 1. The tire men obtained every run in the fourth inning through errors.

The game started off in fast style and the Containers scored their one and only run in the second frame. The run was obtained through clean hits.

Then in the fourth the tire men just knocked the ball in every direction and every time someone hit a ball two runs would come across the plate.

From this inning on, both teams played air-tight ball as no runs were sent across the rubber.

Where You Can Always Do Better.

U. S. TO SHOW DEFICIT OF HUNDRED MILLION IN 1931

By Robert S. Thornburgh
WASHINGTON — Americans are the greatest travelers in the world. Judging from the record figures of $745,000,000 spent by tourists in other countries last year. Foreigners in this country spent $180,000,000.

In the summary of the balance of international payments made public by Secretary of Commerce Lamont today, Canada was shown to be the favorite touring ground for Americans in other countries, because of excellent highways affording automobile traffic, wide advertisement of Canadian resorts and naturally the proximity of the United States and the Dominion. In Mexico American tourists spent $46,000,000.

The lures of Paris and famous French resorts make France the most popular of all countries abroad for Americans. Expenditures amounted to $137,000,000 last year.

Other leading nations in the American tourists trade included: Germany, $44,678,000. The United Kingdom $40,590,000. Italy $30,080,000. Cuba $21,000,000. Switzerland $10,403,000. Japan $9,450,000.

Americans made tourists expenditures in 42 countries in virtually every section of the world.

"Tourists travel between the United States and Canada involves a larger total expenditures than that between any other two countries in the world," the review said. "Canadians in the United States spent about $91,000,000 last year."

"The total merchandise trade between these two nations is now greater than between any other two countries, and necessitates many business tours across the frontier. Each nation maintains numerous branch plants in the other. Investments of United States capital in Canada, are double those in any other country and Canada is credited with almost a billion dollars investments in United States."

Morrow Lays Down Law To Republican Party Leaders In New Jersey

TRENTON, N. J., June 24 — A plank favoring repeal of the eighteenth amendment will be carried in the platform of the New Jersey Republican Party, it was stated unofficially today following a conference of leading Republicans with Dwight Morrow, nominee for the senate who scored an overwhelming victory in the primary on his wet stand.

Those attending the conference, which lasted an hour and a half, were Governor Morgan F. Larson, State Senator Joseph G. Wolber, U. S. Senator Hamilton Kean and Ogden H. Hammond.

The decision came as a surprise, since it had been rumored in reliable sources previously, that the leaders had decided to "straddle" the issue.

It has been forecast that Morrow would not oppose the "straddling" stand but those who revealed the table talk said Morrow declined to accept any such view.

U. S. TO SHOW DEFICIT OF HUNDRED MILLION IN 1931

By Robert S. Thornburgh
WASHINGTON — Americans are the greatest travelers in the world, judging from the record figure of $745,000,000 spent by tourists in other countries last year. Foreigners in this country spent 180,000,000.

In the summary of the balance of international payments made public by Secretary of Commerce Lamont today, Canada was shown to be the favorite touring ground for Americans in other countries, because of excellent highways affording automobile traffic, wide advertisement of Canadian resorts and the proximity of the United States and the Dominion. In Mexico American tourists spent $46,000,000.

The lures of Paris and famous

French resorts make France the most popular of all countries abroad for Americans. Expenditures amounted to $137,000,000 last year.

Other leading nations in the American tourists trade included: Germany, $44,676,000. The United Kingdom, $40,590,000. Italy $30,080,000. Cuba $21,000,000. Switzerland $10,403,000. Japan $9,450,000.

Americans made tourists expenditures in 42 countries in virtually every section of the world.

"Tourists travel between the United States and Canada involves a larger total expenditures than that between any other two countries in the world," the review said. "Canadians in the United States spent about $91,000,000 last year."

"The total merchandise trade between these two nations is now greater than between any other two countries, and necessitates many business tours across the frontier. Each nation maintains numerous branch plants in the other. Investments of United States capital in Canada, are double those in any other country and Canada is credited with almost a billion dollars investments in United States."

"The per capita wealth of these two friendly communities is the highest in the world; the wealth entails leisure to travel. In automobiles per person the United States and Canada lead the world."

It was said suggestions for referendums were suggested as compromise measures, but Morrow would have none of anything less emphatic and clear than his own declaration of the prohibition question in his Newark speech.

McCulloch Millstone
Around Myers' Y.
Cooper's Neck

Appointed to a U. S. senate vacancy as a matter of political expediency, based upon the idea that his name and personality would draw many votes to the Cooper-headed state ticket this fall, Roscoe C. McCulloch became just another millstone around Governor M. Y. Cooper's neck this week.

Chagrined and alarm gripped administration circles as the politically independent Scripps-Howard newspapers began a vigorous campaign to defeat the senator. In each of six Scripps-Howard papers, published in the principal cities of Ohio, was printed the first of a series of editorials telling why McCulloch should not be elected. It read in part:

"On the day after he had filed his declaration of candidacy for the United States senatorial nomination in the Ohio primaries, Senator Roscoe Conklyn McCulloch arose in the senate chamber and cast his vote for the indefensible billion-dollar tariff bill.

"Senator McCulloch, then and there, declared himself out of step with his Ohio constituents.

"Senator McCulloch will be nominated by the Ohio Republicans for the office which he now holds by appointment by Governor Cooper. He will have no opposition. Political pressure has been exerted in his behalf from the seat of national government. He has played the game of an administration senator—We do not believe that Senator McCulloch has reflected the sentiment of the people of Ohio by his vote on the Grundyized tariff bill. We do not believe he represented the desires of his constituents with his vote to confirm the nomination of Judge Parker to the Supreme Court.

"Both of the votes were delivered on the basis of party regularity. They constitute the record on which the senator will appeal to the voters of Ohio for election in November. We believe the people of Ohio wish to be represented in the senate more on the basis of their own needs and desires and not so much on the basis of party regularity and presidential policies.

"There is evidence, in this state, of widespread revolt. It has been fostered, principally, by the disinclination of both senators to listen to reason in regard to the tariff law. Protests have been ignored and pleas for a more liberal attitude have been unheeded.

"We believe the time has come for a change. Senator McCulloch unquestionably should be defeated. "While this newspaper is independent in politics, it believes the Democratic party has offered senatorial candidates for the primary who will more adequately represent the will of the people than does McCulloch."

Governor Cooper has beamed proudly upon McCulloch as his major appointment. McCulloch gratefully had eulogized the millennial administration as the millennium in government. When anti-Cooper, anti-McCulloch leaders in the party had prepared to enter William R. Hopkins, former Cleveland city manager, as an opponent of McCulloch in the primaries, the Hoover administration had intervened, called Hopkins off.

And then spoke the indignant editors. The appointee whom Governor Cooper had prized as a great asset in the campaign became a liability and a heavy one at that.

Seeking an answer to the riddle, "What has become of Governor Cooper's tax commission of 160—count 'em—members?" The Cleveland Plain Dealer hunted up E. J. Marshall, chairman. Marshall admitted little progress had been made, expressed confidence that during the summer experts will work out a valuable program to guide the legislature. Said a Plain Dealer writer: "The feeling has been widespread here that Governor Cooper wished to delay any tax-recommendations until after the November election, fearing that it might hurt his campaign for re-election."

And Charles L. Knight, watchful, combative Republican editor, of Akron wrote in one of his trenchant editorials:

"Ever since November, when the state adopted a constitutional amendment that permits an overhauling of its taxation system, there have been all sorts of conferences and proposals to take the business of tax reform off the people's hands. The idea seems to be, from the executive offices down, that taxation is a thing too intricate for the people of Ohio to understand, and that none but master minds, or at least a crew of experts, are able to give effect to the spirit of the amendment.' Hence we have had every manner of conference, the appointment of commissions and the dreary round of closed-door sessions to mill out a new tax plan that would tell the legislature exactly what to do. As if there were no wisdom in Ohio competent to deal with tax reform, experts have been imported here in great number from other states to add their voice to the discussions—It would make the situation no worse for the people of Ohio, who want only a square deal in the diffusion of the tax burden, if the governor of the state would express his own opinion in the matter, instead of retreating behind the cumbersome deliberations of a topheavy and overloaded commission of more than a hundred, which seems to be making no headway in the matter of reaching a conclusion.

Hugh Fullerton, entertaining columnist of the Columbus Dispatch, writes thus concerning interviews with philosophical natives of Highland Pike, Ross and Adams counties whom he visited recently:

"Been getting lonesome down here," Mr. Rod Gragg, of Bainbridge, reported. "Been about the only Democrat voter down this way for years; but we're going to have a lot of them this fall. Lots of the backsliders are coming back to the faith and this tariff bill is bringing more and more into the fold every day."

"Met old 'Buddy'—John Y. Dean. He, single-handed, made Asa Bushnell governor of Ohio. Asked Buddy about the prospects, politically. 'Hard times make blackberries, rabbits, and Democrats,' he said. 'Plenty hard down here, and while the drought may spoil the rabbits and blackberries, they'll be a whale of a crop of Democrats in the hills this fall.'"

And the editor of the Tiffin Daily Advertiser observes:

"Governor Cooper, who put out the lucky pocket pieces two years ago, guaranteeing two years of prosperity, may not be superstitious. Nevertheless it is noticed that he hastened to file his nomination petition before Friday the 13th."

FOOD FOR TOURISTS

The New York Merchant's Association, in its booklet telling of that city's charms as a summer resort, declares that the visitor in the metropolis may partake of the dishes of 37 different nationalities. This fact is considered of importance in attracting summer tourists on the theory that European food is the thing for which many Americans go abroad.

Perhaps this theory is correct, but one recalls rumors of Americans in Europe bemoaning of fate because they were deprived of their native ham and eggs and other favorite dishes to be had on the other side of the Atlantic. Would it not be better advertising for an American city wishing to entice visitors from other American communities, to announce the excellence of its fried chicken, its blueberry muffins, good coffee and apple pie?

Materials That Dye Well

As a general rule wool has the greatest attraction for coloring matters and dyes most easily. Cotton has much less attraction, while silk occupies an intermediate position. Differences are due to a certain degree to the difference in physical structure of the fibers, but mainly to different chemical composition.

Theatres

AT THE CLIFTONA

Getting himself and his wife's family into a mess and getting them out of it again is the intriguing comedy role which Hal Skelly undertakes in "Men Are Like That," the feature at the Cliftona theatre, starting Wednesday. It is an uproariously funny picturization, all-talking, of American family life and of that well-known figure, the four-flusher.

Skelly follows his thrilling dramatic performances in "The Dance of Life" and "The Woman Trap" with an entertaining and highly enjoyable portrayal of the glib, back-slapping individual whom everybody knows, everybody laughs at, and everybody likes. He is supported by an excellent cast which includes Doris Hill; the popular character actor, Charles Sellon; Morgan Farley, Clara Blandick and Helene Chadwick.

Skelly is the four-flusher who marries a young girl and forces himself into intimacy with her family. Her family hates him but they are forced to get him out of scrapes in order to protect the girl. By sheer nerve, however, he turns the tables, makes good, and earns the family gratitude.

Interesting and laughable side-lights are furnished by Eugene Palette as a traffic policeman and by George Fawcett as a police court judge.

AT THE METROPOLITAN

"Flight," the Columbia all-talking aviation sensation coming to the Metropolitan Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, was made with the cooperation of government officials in Washington. Captain Francis E. Pierce of the United States Marine Corps was detailed to supervise war scenes on the production. Colonel Harry Lay, temporarily in charge of the Marine Base at San Diego, was also actively engaged in the direction of the battle sequences.

In commenting on the work done in San Diego, army officials have stated that the machine gun firing, the aerial action and the maneuvers of the soldiers are true to actual warfare. All machine guns and other artillery were copied from what was used in the recent Mexican rebellion, and the planes are accurate duplicates of those used in the government Marine Base.

Before a single scene had been made, a crew of technical men under the supervision of United States Marine officers were sent to San Diego to prepare the battle ground. The fort used by the marines in the picture is an exact duplicate of the one that played an important part in the Mexican revolution.

Jack Holt, Ralph Graves and Director Frank R. Capra, the triumvirate that made "Submarine," the talk of the nation, were re-united for this production.

AT THE GRAND

Vivienne Segal, who plays the lead in "Song of the West," the Warner Bros. all-talking, dancing Vitaphone picture in technicolor, now at the Grand Theatre, has the record of having been the youngest girl to sing the role of "Carmen." She sang it at the age of sixteen in Philadelphia, in a semi-professional performance of this opera. Miss Segal never took singing in her life, and was in the Academy of the Sisters of Mercy at the time.

"Carmen," one of the most difficult roles in opera, required a tremendous amount of study on account of the large number of songs and the wide voice range, but her work in it won her an immediate contract with the Shuberts to sing the lead in "Blue Paradise."

Many of the sequences were taken out of doors against the magnificent natural panorama of the high Sierras. John Boles plays the male lead.

Child Health Education Is Essential

Great Strides Have Been Made in Directing Young Folk in the Path to Right Living, but "Carry On."

By R. S. COPELAND, M. D.
U. S. Senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health
New York City.

DURING the last quarter of a century there has been a growing appreciation of the importance of child health and child welfare. The science and art of caring for the infant has been developed by a great use of a salutary lesson.

More recently much interest has been centered about the care of the child too young to go to school.

National consciousness has been aroused to the need of health and education for the child. We have learned that this must be looked after in the home, in elementary and high school, and on up through college. In preparing for the World War, thousands of young men were rejected on the grounds of being physically unfit.

This taught us a salutary lesson. Significant changes have been taking place in many schools in the country. It has been found health protection and education go hand in hand.

No more important and far-reaching plan for public health service has been presented than that given some weeks ago under the auspices of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection. Dr. Thomas D. Wood, Chairman of the Committee on the School Child, has stated the program of work outlined.

By this every child of the nation is to have an "equal opportunity for keeping and gaining the best health of which they are capable—health of body, health of mind, health of character—in short, health of the entire personality."

Under such a plan as presented daily health work in the schools would mean daily health inspection. This will be made by a corps of trained teachers and nurses, in cooperation with the home, the family physician, the clinics and hospitals.

Elaborate plans for the nation's public school systems will, in time, no doubt result in adequate healthful school buildings which shall be health centers. The up-to-date school affords a healthful environment for the nation's future citizens.

With periodic health examinations for every child, dental inspection and treatment once or twice a year, health instruction, all promoted in the school as a health center—such a project is indeed a wonderful plan. Great things would come of it. I pray it may succeed.

A healthy child lives, acts and learns in an atmosphere created by the joy of living.

The cooperation of the home, the school, nurse and physician is needed in this larger plan of education. Every parent and every teacher should be a health teacher, and by example and precept direct children under their care to sensible health habits and health knowledge.

"WHERE'S EMILY?"
by CAROLYN WELLS

WHAT HAS HAPPENED BEFORE

JUST before the rehearsal of her marriage to Rodney Sayre, Emily Duane leaves her exclusive Hilldale Park home to visit the hospital. She does not return and Rod and the guests become concerned. They are more perplexed when Jim Pennington, husband of Emily's best friend, Pauline, informs them that his wife, with whom he left the rehearsal about the same time as Emily, has also disappeared. Upon phoning the hospital, it is learned Emily never reached there. It is believed the two young women are together. The theory of kidnapping and robbery is advanced when it is learned Emily wore the diamond necklace Rod gave her as a wedding gift. Knowing Emily's impulsive nature, it is hoped that she and Pauline are on an escape, but this is discounted as time goes.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XII.

"I KNOW her by her spiritual moods, her psychic manifestations. I can say what she would do with more accurate knowledge than those who know her in her daily walks and avocations."

"Then say it!" exploded Gibby. He didn't want to encourage this foolishness, but he felt he must get every possible angle of the situation.

"Ah, that cannot be done impromptu. It would require time. Only through the mystic ecstasy may we achieve a veritable glimpse into eternity, may we become an ethereal floating part of the All, at one with the great Over-Soul of the Universe. Earthbound, we can do nothing, but once tasting Nirvana—"

"Cut it out, Swami," begged Gibby, not rudely, but as one who can stand no more. "I just wanted a little sample, just to get the drift, you know. I've got it, so don't waste any more on me."

Lal Singh looked at him with a face of mild reproach, but Pete desisted a baleful gleam in his eye, and he couldn't help wondering if the Hindu had anything to do with Emily's disappearance.

But the idea was too fantastic, and he put it aside in favor of more practical theories.

"I haven't had enough, Mr. Singh," Nell Harding told him. "I wish you'd instruct me further in your fascinating philosophy. Come out on the veranda with me and give me a little lesson."

The two went off, and Gibby said to Aunt Judy:

"Do you know of that Scum?"

"Oh, my!" said Aunt Judy, shocked at the speech, "I don't know much, to be sure, but you mustn't speak like that! He's a holy man!"

"Holy catpillar!" Pete snorted. "He's a first-class fake. I don't say there aren't true and sincere theosophists, but I never happened to meet any. And take it from me, 'Who is he?'"

"Why, I don't know," Aunt Judy spoke helplessly. "He's a friend of the Penns—"

"Mrs. Penn, or both?"

"Mostly Polly's friend, I guess. But Jim likes him, too."

"Oh, he's all crazy about him. He has made a hit in the place, and he's invited everywhere and all the best people go to his meetings and lectures."

"Of course they do! Well, he's no Swami, to begin with, and I doubt if he's a Hindu at all."

"What of it?" asked Betty. "Who cares anything about him? He didn't kidnap Emily, did he?"

"Maybe he did," said Gibby, thoughtfully. "You know he's sound, bent, and determined to get money from her—a lot of money— isn't he, Aunt Judy?"

"Yes," came the somewhat reluctant reply. "But she has made a bequest—"

"Bequest nothing! He wants it now. What price his abducting her for ransom?"

"I can't think that, Pete," Aunt Judy smiled. "But, be careful, he may overheat you."

"No," said Gibby, "he and Nell have gone down to the arbor to it. I saw them pass the window when they first went outside. I suppose she's drinking in his mystic babble and pretending to understand it."

"Well, it won't hurt her," and

Aunt Judy returned to the subject nearest her heart. "Why do you suppose Rod doesn't come back?"

"Because he has no report to make," said Pete sadly, and then they all went to bed.

Nell returned shortly, saying the Swami had gone home, and had left his adieux for them all.

"I think he didn't come in again, because you were so rude to him, Pete," she said, with a reproachful glance.

"Was I?" he said cheerfully. "I hope I'll have a chance to be again. See here, Nell, you're not to fall for him, you know."

"Mustn't I? All right," she smiled acquiescently, but her mental reservation was that she would do as she pleased.

She was good friends with Pete he admired her greatly, but he hadn't acquired the right to dictate to her about her likes or dislikes of people.

Restlessly Gibby wandered about the room, then he went to the booth in the hall and telephoned.

Returning, he said:

"I called Craven over. I think I'd like a talk with him. Stay or go, the rest of you, as you like."

Aunt Judy went off to see about some housekeeping matters, but the two girls stayed, for lack of anything better to do.

Craven, who lived near, came along soon, and asked, "Where's Emily?"

"We don't know," Pete replied, and then he recounted the situation.

Craven was amazed and decidedly perturbed.

"You don't mean—you can't mean," he said, "that she's lost?"

"She's unexplainably missing," Gibby said. "You can call it lost or whatever you choose. The fact is that she isn't here, and we don't know where she is. A few of us went out to look for her, without success, and now a few others have gone to look, with, so far, no success, either."

"But it's incredible—impossible!"

"Well, it's so, all the same. Now, what I want you to tell us, and I'm sure you can make no objections, is about this Emily. Emily was a very nice person."

"But that's in her will," Craven said, "and so it couldn't be paid while she is alive. Moreover, she's to be married on Saturday, and that automatically annuls her will. Perhaps when she makes a new one, which she intends to do tomorrow, she'll cut the Hindu out."

"How can a will made tomorrow be any more efficacious after her marriage than her present will?"

"Because she means not to sign it until after the ceremony; then she will sign her married name, and of course it will stand."

"Then, Craven, granting there is anything wrong about Emily's disappearance, doesn't it look as if the Hindu had something to do with it?"

Everett Craven stared at him. "Abducted her and killed her, so he'd get his money under her present will?" he asked bluntly, and Betty gave a little shriek.

Nell flared up instantly, and said: "Pete Gibby, how dare you suggest such a thing. It's bad enough to have Emily gone, but to attempt to fasten a crime on that godly man, that holy priest of Vishnu—"

"Hold on, Nell, you don't mean Vishnu—I don't believe you know one heathen god from another!"

"Do you?"

"Well, I know Ra, the sun god, from the crossword puzzles, and the quiz books have taught me a few more. But I'll bet I know as much about that lingo as your old fakier does. Look at Mr. Craven."

Poison in Jaminies
The Department of Agriculture advises that yellow jaminies contain certain alkaloids which would cause toxicity if taken internally, and caution should consequently be used concerning it. The oleander, however, is deadly poisonous, and should never be kept on lawns or around houses where children may have access to it.—Washington Star.

Oldest Dinner Bell Found
England's recent quest for the oldest dinner bell has to date ended in Westminster Abbey. In the Norman undercroft has been found an old refractory bell, dating from Norman times, which was rung to summon the monks to dinner. It is saucer-shaped, and having no tongue was sounded by being struck by a staff.

Correction in Boundary
The reason for the peculiar deviation from a straight line or boundary between Connecticut and Massachusetts, known as the Southwick jog, is that when adjusting errors in the boundary line between Connecticut and Massachusetts, as previously run by compass, a long, narrow strip of land was given to Connecticut. The Southwick jog, ceded to Massachusetts was intended to be an equal area.

KINGSTON

Miss Mary Harpster spent the week-end at the home of her sister Mrs. George Gill and husband. The Pickaway County Woman's Christian Temperance Union spent a very delightful day on Wednesday at Hillsboro where they were the guests of the Highland County W. C. T. U. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dreisbach and Miss Mary Harpster. They report a pleasant motor drive and a most hospitable and cordial welcome and enjoyed a delicious dinner at the noon hour.

What might have been a bad fire was stopped on Saturday night when the barn on Mrs. Sarah Hinton's place, near Whistler, by some unknown cause caught on fire late Saturday night. A neighbor gave the alarm and in a short time a number of other neighbors came with buckets and the fire was put out. The fire started in the mow which was filled with hay and it was a miracle that the fire was stopped before the barn burned down.

Mrs. Lester Oney of Jackson and her daughter, Mrs. George Wright and her small son, George spent Friday in Chillicothe, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Morris McKinney and family.

I STOOD PAY ON A PAIR OF JACKS. JIM DREW THREE, I BET A RED ONE, JIM RAISED ME, THEN WE BOTH TILTED BACK AND FORTH AND HE FINALLY THREW AWAY THREE KINGS. OH BOY! I MUST HAVE GOT AWAY WITH A THOUSAND BLUFFS ON THAT BIRD, AND I'LL TELL YOU WHY, — THE FEW TIMES HE DID CALL ME I ALWAYS HAD A HEAVY MITT. BOY! HE WAS SORE.

I SAW HIM THIS MORNIN' — HE TOLD ME HE NEVER HELD SO MANY BIG MITTS AND THAT YOU HAD HIM TOPPED EVERY TIME! HE DOESN'T SUSPECT YOU. HE SAID HE'S THROUGH.

SPEAKING OF MERGERS

A few days ago we heard a rumor that two nationally-known mail order houses were contemplating the advantages of joining hands and becoming as one. A 'gigantic merger' was the term applied, and in these days of Big Business combines, this came as no surprise to us.

As a matter of fact, our primary emotion was that of sincere sorrow. We shed a few tears for the Postmen of America. Should such an alliance take place, just imagine what those boys are going to be lugging around. It's hard enough to lift a mail order catalogue, right now.

What with banks becoming chummy and corporations hollering "Mammy" at each other, it would seem as though mergers were quite the thing in this day and age. It puts us in mind of our modest and miniature merger which went into effect years ago when we started in business. We merged Quality Merchandise, Satisfactory Service and Moderate Prices into our triumvirate of business—a contribution to the folks of this community.

Maybe it was just beginner's luck, but anyway, it has worked. It has helped us to make a lot of friends, and to supply our friends with what they want. And if we can continue to do that, mail order houses can merge and submerge to their little hearts' content; it's quite all right with us.

Before we forget, we want to remind our coal dealers, that there's only seven more weeks until the Heatrola Free Coal Campaign starts. And judging from the comments of many of our Heatrola prospects, there will be plenty of pay days at the mines.

No use in having nice rugs if you don't take care of them. Our advice, if anybody wants to know (as if anybody would!) is to go over them on cleaning day with a Bissell Carpet Sweeper.

Or, better yet, how about a new Bee Vac Vacuum Cleaner? Ah, that's the correct solution and we'll send one out for a free trial and demonstration anytime you say.

Weather Forecast: Cool, comfortable kitchens, on hot, sultry days, in homes where housewives enjoy the wonderful advantages of baking in an Estate Gas Range with Heat-Retaining (Insulated) Oven. Come in and let us show you the new models now on display.

"What, if anything," inquired a reader of The Herald, "has the recent market break taught us?" "One thing, conclusively," sighed the editor, Glenn Gebb, "that most of the names on the sucker list really belonged there."

M. C. Warren says: "The statesman of the future will not boast that he was born in a log cabin. He will begin his autobiography: 'My people were a one-car family.'"

Let the best man forget the ring if he will, but don't forget that a swarthy gift can be purchased here: Mirrors, lamps, chairs, tables—all sorts of timely articles.

A deluge of rain, a scorching sun—it's all the same to Pioneer Porch Furniture, which is specially treated to withstand wind and weather. Complete sets or single pieces—all surprisingly low in price.

Mrs. Frank Kline, Sr.: "I always allow my husband to sit in an easy chair and put his feet on the Heatrola."

Friend: "Why?"

Mrs. Kline: "I have sometimes found as much as four dollars in change on the floor the next day."

And some folks say that it does not pay to have our annual Pumpkin Show. Here's an incident that has just happened in Circleville. Saturday afternoon a family dropped into one of the stores in this city and made inquiry as to who sold the ALCAZAR line of kerosene and gasoline pressure cooking appliances. This merchant called our store and asked us. We informed him that we were local agents of this well-known and favorably known line of liquid fuel cook stoves. He sent the family to our store. They informed us that they had remembered seeing the Alcazar on display at the Pumpkin Show, but had forgotten at whose store. We are sorry that we cannot go on and tell you what a nice order they gave to us, but we cannot for the reason U. S. they did not buy. However, we are just as thankful to our good friend, the merchant that helped them find the Alcazar line, as though we had sold them the finest range on our floor. We'll throw a brick in his path some day. We are also convinced that the Pumpkin Show is a good thing for this community and that the Alcazar stoves are good stoves for those that do not have the convenience of gas. So, we're in favor of the P. S. and Alcazar.
